RISK DEFINITIONS

Commodity Risk

Investment in commodities can be volatile, and involve additional risks such as the socio-political environment, economic and natural events, and supply & demand.

Compliance Risk

This refers to the risk of not complying with the legislation, regulations, prescribed investment limits and internal policies and procedures by the manager/AIFM or the investment manager.

Concentration Risk

Each sub-fund pools the assets of many investors and use the proceeds to buy a portfolio of securities. There are regulations in place which limit the amount that a Fund may invest in individual securities and issuers, thereby spreading the risk across securities, asset classes and companies.

Credit Risk

Credit risk arises where an issuer of a non-equity security is unable to make interest payments or repay capital. The possibility of insolvency, bankruptcy or default of a counterparty, could result in losses to the Fund.

Currency Risk / Foreign Exchange Risk

This risk is associated with investments that are denominated in foreign currencies. When the foreign currencies fluctuate against the South African Rand, the investments face currency gains or losses.

Inflation Risk

The risk of potential loss in the purchasing power of your investment due to a general increase of consumer prices.

Liquidity Risk

This relates to the ability of the Fund to trade out of a security at or near to its fair value. This may impact on liquidity and in the case of foreign-denominated securities, the repatriation of currency.

Market Risk

Equity markets are volatile and the price of equities fluctuate based on a number of factors such as changes in the economic climate, general movements in interest rates and the political and social environment which will also affect the value of the securities held, thereby affecting the overall value of the Fund.

Political Risk

The risk that investment returns could suffer as a result of a country's political changes or instability in the country. Instability could come from changes in the country's government, policy makers or military.

Settlement Risk

Settlement risk arises when a fund is exposed to credit risk on parties with whom it trades securities, and may also bear the risk of settlement default, in particular in relation to debt securities such as bonds, notes and similar debt obligations or instruments.

Tax Risk

This risk relates to any change to tax laws or to the interpretation of existing tax laws which has an impact on the manner in which ICAV sub-funds are taxed.

Characteristics

This is a multi-asset flexible portfolio, which means that the portfolio may have a maximum equity exposure of up to 100% at all times. The portfolio will typically invest between 70% to 100% in higher risk assets, while being allowed to diversify investments across various asset classes, geographical areas, industries or sectors in order to meet its investment objective.

Risk Reward Profile: High

Typically, the lower the risk, the lower the potential return and the higher the risk, the higher the potential return. There is no guarantee that returns will be higher when investing in a portfolio with a higher risk profile. The risk profile is rated as high as the portfolio will typically invest in a combination of lower and higher risk assets. In anticipation of and during periods of contraction and expansion, exposure to higher risk assets may fluctuate between 70% and 100% respectively.

Total Expense Ratio (TER):

TER Calculation Period: Estimate

The TER disclosed is for the A Class and reflects the % of the value of the fund that was incurred as expenses relating to the administration of the fund. A higher TER does not necessarily imply a poor return, nor does a low TER imply a good return. The Current TER may not necessarily be an accurate indication of future TER's, and the TER is estimated until the fund has sufficient expense history. Calculations are based on actual data where possible and best estimates where actual data is not available. Obtain the Effective Annual Cost (EAC) estimate before investing by contacting the AIFM at +353 1 2053500.

Note that in most cases where the Financial Services Provider (FSP) is a related party to the portfolio manager, the FSP, the FSP's representative or the distributor may earn additional fees other than those charged by the portfolio manager.
