Portfolio Strategy

BMO US Dividend ETF has been designed to provide exposure to a yield weighted portfolio of U.S. dividend paying stocks. The ETF utilizes a rules based methodology that considers the three year dividend growth rate, yield, and payout ratio to invest in U.S. equities. Securities will also be subject to a liquidity screen process. The underlying portfolio is rebalanced in June and reconstituted in December.

Fund Benefits

- Provides convenient and efficient exposure to a yield weighted portfolio of U.S. dividend equities
- Offers exposure to sectors that may be under represented in Canadian equity portfolios
- Lower overall risk compared to broad U.S. equity market
- Provides excellent transparency through intra-day trading prices and daily portfolio composition, and the ability to trade whenever the TSX is open
- The underlying securities of ZDY have large daily trade volumes which represents the ETFs true liquidity

² Beta is a measure of how a BMO ETF responds to moves in the broader market in which it invests. A beta of greater than 1.00 suggests that the ETF is more volatile than the market, while a beta of less than 1.00 suggests that the ETF is less volatile than the market. Beta may change over time and historical beta is not indicative of future beta. The indicated beta is generally based on historical rolling two-year returns. Where a BMO ETF does not have two years of performance history, the beta may be calculated as long as at least six months of performance history is available.
